

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

when will enough be enough? having one company own numerous stations in a market cannot be anything but anti-competitive. indeed, by "corporatizing" the media, with so much power concentrated into so few hands, prices have skyrocketed and more voices are shut out. please stop where you are now. enough is enough. the narrow range of views allowed expression on the commercial mass media is turning america into a non-voting, non-caring group of tuned-out people. is that what you want? that is what you are encouraging by creating the "sameness" throughout media.
